Shifting paradigms in BTcP management

We are pleased to invite you to the BeCOOn OWN webcast, a leading European educational meeting dedicated to addressing the challenges healthcare professionals face with managing cancer pain. This event will provide a forum where you can exchange ideas with your colleagues and peers from around Europe on managing cancer pain, including breakthrough cancer pain, and the patient's perspective.

You will also have the opportunity to interact with leading international experts, and to share best-practice experiences with European multidisciplinary teams actively involved in this field.

We hope to have piqued your interest, you can register now on www.beconown.com.
