Webbcast: Breast cancer care after the pandemic

The pandemic has been constantly present for almost a year. Vaccines have been developed at a speed that was unheard of. Looking back at this unusual year – what are the key learnings for the breast cancer care? Welcome to a Nordic webcast about breast cancer care in the aftermath of the pandemic.

Experts in the panel will discuss issues such as:

- How should the issue of undiagnosed patients due to the pandemic be handled?
- What are the patients experience of the care during the pandemic?
- Learnings for the future – are there positive consequences?
